

IT'S TIME TO WAKE UP YOUR GARDEN

Warmer days are ahead and spring isn't far behind!

February is the turning point. We're a month from reopening retail, the greenhouse is filling with new cuttings and houseplants each week, and warmer days are finally ahead. With temps climbing into the 40s and 50s, now's the time to gently prep your garden for spring.

Clean up winter leftovers

Remove fallen branches and heavy leaf buildup to improve airflow and prevent early-season disease. Be careful around perennials — new growth may already be starting below the surface.

Prune with purpose

Trim dead or damaged wood from trees and shrubs before active growth begins. Skip spring bloomers like lilacs or hydrangeas that flower on old wood — you don't want to cut off this year's blooms.

Prep for a strong start

Take advantage of mild days to test your soil, refresh edging, and check garden tools. Clean and sharpen pruners, organize supplies, and start mapping out what you'd like to plant this season. A little intention now sets you up for a smooth, successful spring.

BRIGHT DAYS AHEAD FOR GLASSHOUSE MARKET

Behind the scenes, our team has been hard at work refreshing and restyling Glasshouse Market for reopening. Shelves are being reset, new pieces are arriving, and every detail is coming together to create a space that feels both inspiring and welcoming as we head toward spring.

This season, you'll see bright, cheerful colors making their way into the market — a welcome contrast to the gray days of winter. Those fresh hues are layered with cozy candles, soft lighting, and warm textures, creating a space that feels equal parts comfort and new energy.
